

The Process

When creating your dream space, finding that perfect designer who understands your vision and has the ability to execute it is essential. emDesign takes a wholly personalised approach to each project, from initial consultation, to compelling proposals, freehand sketches, creating moodboards and colourways, 3D renderings and supervising the contractual teams to full project management, all the while ensuring the design concept and the client's wishes are always in unison. See part of the process come to life here....
